Agenda Item 3:

Resolution Proposed by 159 Shareholders

Section 249N of the Corporations Act requires a company to consider, at a general meeting, a resolution which has been proposed by at least 100 members. Requests for this resolution have been received from 159 members.

The resolution is a special resolution proposing an amendment to the Bank's Constitution in the terms set out in the Appendix. A special resolution must be passed by at least 75% of the votes cast by members entitled to vote.

The Bank's Board of Directors believe that the resolution is not in the best interests of the Bank and its shareholders. They intend to vote their shares and all open proxy votes given to them, against the resolution.

The resolution is intended, amongst other things, to restrict the ability of the Group to invest in, or provide funds to, companies lawfully involved in certain forestry related activities.

The Commonwealth Bank's subsidiary funds management companies invest unitholders' funds in accordance with directions and parameters agreed with the unitholders. Those companies and their directors operate under a legal obligation, under the Corporations Act, to act in the interests of unitholders and, in so doing, cannot be constrained by the Bank. Investors can choose a portfolio of investments which best suits their needs and funds managers are required to act in accordance with those directions. It is essential that the funds managers remain able to act in the best interest of their investors and to achieve outcomes which reflect the legitimate requirements of those investors.

Forestry activities require licensing by the relevant Governments. The determination of Government policy is a function of a duly elected body and that body is the appropriate forum for debate of issues of concern for interested parties.

The Bank should not be required to impose the views of a special interest group upon companies acting in accordance with an authority granted under the democratic processes of Australia. The amendment to the Bank's Constitution which is proposed is therefore not an appropriate matter to be incorporated into the constitution of a company and would represent an undesirable precedent for constraining the legitimate business functions of the Board and Management.

The Bank, through its lending policies and processes, incorporates due consideration of environmental risks where this is appropriate as part of its risk assessment.

The Bank has in place an environmental policy dealing with its own activities. Details of this policy together with the Bank's environmental initiatives, are on the Bank's website www.commbank.com.au. The Bank regularly reviews and updates, where necessary, its systems to address the environmental impacts of its activities.
